

Coaching for Purpose helps you achieve the results you're after. The outcome is to leave you feeling self-reliant and enables you to set the agenda and gain from the benefits based on coaching4purpose. The ultimate gain is self-coaching.

> Privilege

- Potential is important to realise your own self-worth and that of your team and partners you'll be working with. This will help you motivate and help your team grow. From little acorns grow Oak Trees.
- Possibility helps you define your Dreams and find the creativity and drive to achieve this. When you stretch you'll need to find balance so you don't crack, and an understanding of how to push your boundaries.
- Perception affects your success. You'll need to be able to reflect your true core values to build relationships. This will be affected by your communication style and the manner you embrace your environment.
- Persistence is a trait you'll need to cultivate as you grow your career or business. An essential skill here will be to appraise your failures, take feedback and chart a future path.

ADESCOY

